NATIONAL SEMINAR ON NATIONAL DEVELOPMENT THROUGH SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY

25-26 September, 2017

Venue:
Government Degree College Sopore

Organized by
Indian Science Congress Association
(Srinagar Chapter)
University of Kashmir

In Collaboration With Government Degree College
Sopore, Kashmir

FOREWORD

For every nation to get developed, the application of science and technology has to go hand in hand. Villages are developed into towns and towns to cities and cities are expanding to greater horizons. This expansion has occurred through expansion of science and technology over the years.

Today countries are classified as developed and developing countries. The major categorization is based on economy and the application of science and technology. The countries with strong base in science and technology are the ones that developed faster. So a nation's development and prosperity is judged to a large extent by the status of science and technology of that nation. A scientifically unsophisticated society means an underdeveloped nation in all sectors.

We the citizens of the nation and who hold equal responsibility for the growth should equip our youth with all possible facilities for their research thirst and support and motivate them, as the future of our nation is in their hands and they could get our nation to more advanced levels than what it is today.

In this backdrop, a two days interdisciplinary national seminar on the theme "National Development through Science and Technology" is being organized by Indian Science Congress Association, "Srinagar Chapter" in collaboration with Government Degree College Sopore, Kashmir on 25-26th September, 2017. The seminar will provide an opportunity to the scientists, teachers, researchers and students to scientific communication and share their research findings. The deliberations and discussions in this meet will definitely indicate the new dimensions in science and technology, and motivate the researchers to formulate the new directions of their ongoing and new research projects.

We invite you to participate in the said seminar by taking part in oral or poster presentation. We shall be eagerly looking forward to your visit to this happy valley called Paradise on Earth.

Kindly share the word about the seminar with your colleagues desirous of participating in this event.

Convener

ABOUT THE SEMINAR

The seminar will broadly focus on different aspects encompassing Science and Technology. The purpose is to invite original, innovative and novel research ideas; to facilitate interaction among scientific community and to build future collaborations. To provide an adequate coverage to the subject, the meet has been categorized into six different themes.

1. Frontiers in Chemical Science Application.
2. Cell Signaling and Communication.
3. Applications of Mathematical Science.
4. Biodiversity and Climate Change.
5. Advances in Agricultural Research
6. Recent Trends in Physics of Material Science and Technology
