1) Resume Summary:

Effat Yasmin is working as professor in the Department of Economics at the University of Kashmir and previously served as head of the Department for eight years .She had the honor to be honorary director of Population Research Centre (PRC, Srinagar) from 2013 to 2021. She has contributed to the corporate life of the University and worked as warden girls' hostel and subsequently as the first Provost Girls Hostels. This enabled her to preside over a regime of reforms and restructuring the hostel sector. She has authored books and research articles on themes viz Public Finance, Gender, Rural Development, Education, Health, Banking and Trade etc. In the year 2006 she was selected for International Visitors Leadership Programme and visited different centers/institutions in the United States of America. Her experiences at United States Institute of Peace Washington, School of Business George Washington University and Kellogg School of Management Chicago were rewarding and helpful in translating some best practices back home. Her experiences at Muzaffarabad University and University of Dhaka Bangladesh have greatly helped in the task of curriculum development at University of Kashmir. Her membership of some professional bodies viz, Wetland Authority Government of Jammu and Kashmir, Indian Association for Research in National income and wealth New Delhi, International society for Agricultural Development and Policy and International Society of Economics and Development have helped in bridging the gap between theory and practice of Economics. Additionally, she also worked as consultant to Centre for Dialogue and Reconciliation, New Delhi on women related concerns.
